

Fig. 8. A composite curve showing the relative positions at which various actinide and lanthanide elements are eluted by an ammonium citrate solution from a column of Dowex-50 maintained at high temperature.