- ▶ Created as part of the Department of Energy Public Access Plan.
- ▶ Offers readers the best available full-text version of DOE-affiliated scholarly publications – either the peer-reviewed accepted manuscript or the published article – after an administrative interval of 12 months.
- ▶ Leverages the long-established DOE Scientific and Technical Information Program network and the E-Link scientific and technical information management system.

DOE is partnering with publishers, universities, and other organizations to advance public access.
