December 23, 1978

Dear Bill,

Now that I am back from China and Japan I am taking this opportunity to express to you, and through you to the Office of Computer Services and Telecommunications Management, my appreciation for the support provided me and the DOE delegation. In particular, I wish to commend Charles Brashears and John Stush for their close support abroad.

I also wish to thank William Batchelor, Claude Adams, Bill Bowden, Alan Huff, Larry Gresham, Steve Hackman, and Garnetta Phillips for providing telecommunications support to the Office of Current Assessments. Would you assure that their personnel files reflect my appreciation.

Sincerely,

James R. Schlesinger
Secretary

trip*

December 23, 1978

Dear Stan,

On my return from two weeks of negotiations and discussions in the Peoples Republic of China and Japan I am taking this opportunity to express to you and, through you, to your representatives here and abroad my appreciation for the support afforded to me and to the Department of Energy delegation. Responsiveness to our needs was first-rate, especially the analytical and communications support without which we would have been cut off from crucial developments in Iran and elsewhere and unable to deal effectively with official inquiries from our hosts.

We particularly appreciated the efforts of the Director, Foreign Broadcast Information Service, and the Deputy Director for Operations.

Sincerely,

James R. Schlesinger
Secretary

Mr. William Thomas
Peking Liaison Office
Kuang Hua Lu 17
Department of State
Washington, D.C. 20520

Dear Bill:

Just a quick note on behalf of the four of us in the advance party for Secretary Schlesinger's trip to the People's Republic of China October 24 to November 5 to thank you and your colleagues for your assistance and cooperation before and during the visit. We appreciated your efforts and those of others at the Liaison Office, including Diane Stuart, Harold Vickers, Richard Bock, Phil Hendrix and John Grassle and the other members of his staff, who helped make the trip a success.

We hope the visit was not too disruptive, particularly in light of the large number of pending visits that you were facing. Please let us know if there is anything we can do for you from here. In the meantime, we will be watching developments in the PRC with considerable interest.

Sincerely,

Carl Gustin
Assistant to the Director
Office of Public Affairs

Dear Mr. Yao:

Just a brief note to thank you, Mr. Yu and Mr. Li for your efforts in connection with the visit to the People's Republic of China by Secretary Schlesinger October 24 to November 5. We very much appreciated the hospitality and the excellent cooperation that was extended to us, and I am sure that view is shared by the press who accompanied the Secretary. We hope that in the near future you will again have the opportunity to visit the United States and that you will allow us to reciprocate.

The Secretary

November 17, 1978

Dear Mr. Premier:

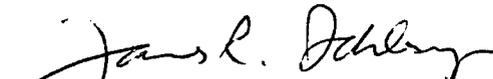

I want to express my deep gratitude for the hospitality your Government extended to my wife, to me, and to our delegation on our visit to the People's Republic of China.

Our two weeks in China were highly rewarding for all of us. I trust that the Energy Delegation has made a useful contribution to the enhancement of a mutually beneficial relationship based on the principles of the Shanghai Communiqué. I can assure you I am personally committed to continuing to do my part to realize our common goals in the energy area and in other matters about which we share a common perspective.

Let me thank you also for your courtesy in personally receiving me and my party on November 4. I have conveyed your regards to President Carter as you requested and I have reported to him on your review of developments inside China since we last met two years ago and your assessment of the international scene.

My second meeting with you, just as the first, left me deeply impressed with your perceptive and detailed grasp of all the key issues. China is indeed fortunate to have your leadership at this crucial time.

Respectfully,

James R. Schlesinger

Dear Mr. Vice Premier:

Thank you for receiving me and my colleagues and for the very interesting and useful discussion on November 3.

I believe we are agreed upon the need for continued vigilance in strategic areas and upon the existence of opportunities for closer cooperation on energy matters.

Our visit to the People's Republic, I trust, will indeed have mutually beneficial results.

Respectfully,

Dear Mr. Vice Premier:

On behalf of all my delegation, I want to thank you for the courtesies you extended to us during our visit to the People's Republic.

I believe our meetings on my first day in Peking provided a useful framework for the discussions in the various technical areas that followed. We look forward to intensified cooperation with the PRC as you pursue your modernization goals. We will do our part to help.

While I mentioned my appreciation before I left Peking, I do want to record here that, particularly with the adjustments to my itinerary made after our private talk on October 25, I found my trip to the Northeast as well as to Hangchow and Shanghai especially instructive and enjoyable. I am grateful for your facilitating that itinerary.

Respectfully,

Dear Mr. Minister:

While I have attempted in my farewell toast in Peking to convey my appreciation - and that of my wife and my delegation - for your hospitality to us in the People's Republic, I do want to write you that I found our visit extremely rewarding. I deeply hope that it will prove to have been mutually beneficial, and I am grateful to you personally for the excellent arrangements you made.

Through our Liaison Office in Peking, I have sent some small gifts to symbolize our appreciation for the hospitality shown to us by others in Peking, by our escort, Mr. Chao Sheng-chen, and his associates, and by our hosts in Harbin, Taching, Darien, Hangchow and Shanghai. I hope you will also find an opportunity to confirm to all those others who helped with our visit that we recall fondly and gratefully the thoughtful, thorough, and gracious attention throughout our visit.

I look forward to increasing contacts between our two countries and peoples in the spirit of the Shanghai Communique.

Respectfully,
