Gail Fontaine of Boston Massachusetts called Dr. Saenger twice long distance today. She wanted information about whole body radiation. It was explained to her that Dr. Saenger could not talk to a patient or indeed to an individual layman. She was asked for the name of her doctor and the patient's name. She said the patient was Kathleen Fontaine and the doctor was Dr. Philip Joseph Halon of Carney Hospital in Boston.

Dr. Saenger called Dr. Halon and spoke with him about the case.
