Dr. Warren G. Bennis
204 Administration Building
University of Cincinnati

Dear Dr. Bennis:

In the interest of rapidly transmitting the report of the faculty committee concerning the irradiation project, I did not write a covering letter to you. During the final stages of the report's preparation, I had an opportunity to review the document and was asked to express my opinions. I believe that we as a University can be very proud of the dedicated work of the committee and of the high quality represented by its report. It is my feeling that the recommendations of the committee that the project on total body irradiation should be developed into a carefully planned "Phase III" type of investigation should be implemented. Unless this type of further development takes place, it seems to me that continuation of the present study is open to some question.

Sincerely yours,

Clifford G. Grulee, Jr., M.D.
