The decision to extend the terminal date of subject contract from 31 August 1957 to 31 October 1957 is based on the following:

1. This contract was established to provide for the selections, testing and reporting on the study of 10 patients. The special requirements did not produce the necessary number for the final study and report.

2. It is to the advantage of the government to extend the terminal date of the contract to enable the contractor to report on a greater number patients, thereby being in a position to render a more conclusive report.
