USER INTERFACE STORYBOARDS

Purpose of UI Storyboards

Purpose of UI Storyboards

- A UI Storyboard is created for every Use Case that has:
 - A human actor, or
 - A user interface that presents information about a System action to a human actor

- UI Storyboards...
 - Further explore Use Case actions that affect System displays
 - Are used to elicit requirements that were missed during the Use Case development process, or to refine existing requirements
 - Provide a more concrete, visual means of eliciting feedback about user workflows and proposed user interface design paradigms for the System
 - Inform architecture and prototyping activities
 - Are NOT intended to convey detailed design of System displays
