

Division 8000 Outstanding Women celebrated

In celebration of Women's History Month 2014, Sandia has recognized 24 Outstanding Women in honor of the awards they received in fiscal years 2012 and 2013 for contributions to the nation, professional societies, or the community

The honor reflects "an external recognition of your leadership [and] your accomplishments for a wide variety of activities," all of which share the characteristics of leadership and commitment, President and Labs Director Paul Hommert told the honorees at a March 10 ceremony in Albuquerque.

On Tuesday, March 18, Division 8000 Vice President Steve Rottler congratulated the following five Division 8000 recipients at a brief ceremony in Building 929:

- Jackie Chen (8351): Distinguished Paper Award at the 34th International Combustion Symposium [<http://www.combustion2012.itc.pw.edu.pl/>]
- Katherine Guzman (8112): 2013 HENAAC Luminary Honoree chosen by Great Minds in STEM [<https://prod.sandia.gov/california/2013/10/01/katherine-guzman-named-a-2013-henaac-luminary/>]
