

Next Steps

Sandia is a multiprogram laboratory operated by Sandia Corporation, a Lockheed Martin Company, for the United States Department of Energy's National Nuclear Security Administration under contract DE-AC04-94AL85000.

Building a Strategic Plan

- Define goals to be accomplished
- Define the team to do the work
- Plan the next activities/future engagements
- Estimate schedule and required budget

Engagement Opportunities

- Technical Exchanges
- Visiting Scholars
- Border Needs Assessment
- Joint Border Security Systems Analysis
- Specialized Training
- Test and Evaluation of Equipment
- Joint Exercises

Discussion

- What bilateral and regional opportunities do you see?
- What can help/hinder these?
- Whose approval is required for any changes to occur?
- How can ARCENT help?

Exercise

- Develop the next steps for further engagement.
